

Student ID Card and Student ID Number

Student ID Card

Your student ID card is an important form of evidence that you are a student of APU. Please carry it with you at all times and take good care of it.

Your student ID card must be presented in the following situations:

- When requested by faculty or staff
- When taking examinations
- When purchasing bus passes or student fare tickets
- When entering certain facilities (e.g. APU Library)
- When borrowing items at the Library
- When applying for certain certificates
- When using APU facilities or equipment

Important instructions about your student ID card

- Do not loan or give your student ID card to another person.
- Do not bend, break, or deface your student ID card. Do not keep it near smart phones, mobile phones, or other electronics.
- If you lose your student ID card or if any of your personal information printed on the card changes, immediately notify the Student Office.
- If you are issued a new student ID card, or if you lose your student status due to graduation, withdrawal or removal from the register, you must return your student ID card to the Student Office.

You must affix a new registration confirmation label on the back of your student ID card every year

- The registration confirmation label is the sticker affixed to the back of your student ID card. This label has the expiration date of the card and other information. A student ID card is considered invalid if the date on the registration confirmation label is expired. Cards without this label are also invalid.
- Come to the Student Office before the expiration date printed on the sticker to pick up a new registration confirmation label. Write your current address and other information on the label and affix it to the back of your student ID card.
Remember that you must remove your current sticker before applying the new one.
Stickers will not be issued for students who are taking a “leave of absence”.
- You can receive the sticker at the Tokyo Campus or Osaka Campus.

If you lose or damage your card

- If your student ID card needs to be reissued due to loss, damage, or for any other reasons, you can apply for a replacement at the Student Office. Your replacement card will be issued two office days after your application is received, and there is a replacement fee of 2,000 yen.

If you have a name change or want to change the photo on your student ID card

- If your name changes, you will be issued a new student ID card for free. Please bring documents that can be used to confirm your name change, such as a passport or residence certificate, to the Student Office.
- If you want to change the photograph on your student ID card, please bring new ID photos to the Student Office. There will be a reissue fee of 2,000 yen.

Students who extend their graduation date must renew their student ID card

- For undergraduate students, the original expiration date of your student ID card is your expected graduation date after completing eight semesters. If you will be enrolled at APU for more than eight semesters, you will need to renew the data in the card to extend the expiration date. If you do not renew your card, you will not be able to use it at facilities such as the library.
- Undergraduate students who will be enrolled at APU for nine semesters or more will need to bring their student ID card to the Student Office each semester after their eighth semester to have the card renewed. Your card will be returned two office days after you submit it for renewal.

Guidelines for writing student names on student ID cards

- Beginning with newly enrolled students in spring 2021, personal names will be written as follows:
 1. All capital letters, in the order shown in the student's passport
 2. If you are a current student and wish to have your name order altered in line with the above, please apply at the Student Office.

Student ID Number

The student ID number is the eight-digit number that is printed on the front of your student ID card. The correct student ID number must be entered on attendance sheets, examination answer sheets, reports, and other forms.

Tuition

APU tuition is composed of admission fees, tuition A and tuition B.

Failure to pay any portion of tuition by the deadline will result in removal from the register for nonpayment of tuition fees, and credits will not be recognized for that semester.

Please be sure to make all tuition payments by the deadline. Some Japanese banks may require you to complete certain procedures to receive funds from a foreign bank account. These procedures can take a few days, so make sure you complete them well ahead of the payment deadline. You must pay tuition fees for each semester until graduation even if you have already fulfilled the credit requirements to graduate and do not register for courses.

How to Receive Your Tuition Invoice

Your tuition payment form or Japan Post Bank automatic withdrawal notice will be sent to the domestic billing address that you have registered in Campusmate. The invoices are sent via mail during mid-April for the spring semester and mid-October for the fall semester. It is crucial to note that if your billing address is registered to an overseas address or is not updated after moving, you may not receive the invoice and fail to pay tuition before the tuition payment deadline. To prevent such issues, keep your billing address up-to-date at all times.

In addition to sending the tuition invoice to your registered billing address in Japan, APU will also send an email to international students with details on how to pay tuition from overseas.

You can follow the instructions in the email to pay your tuition.

Tuition Components

Tuition is composed of tuition A (which is the same for students of all year levels) and tuition B (which varies depending on the year level of the student).

Tuition A: This is a fixed amount for all four years.

Tuition B: This amount varies depending on the semester of the individual student.

※ Graduate students should refer to the Graduate Academic Handbook available on the Academic Office website for tuition information.

Tuition Amounts

※ Amounts shown are per semester.

※ Tuition amounts differ for students admitted in or before AY 2014, students admitted between AY 2015 ~ AY 2019, and those admitted in or after AY 2020.

Tuition amounts for students in their fifth year undergraduates and above (students in their 9th semester or above)

Tuition A: This is a fixed amount for students in their fifth year or later.

Tuition B: Number of Credits Registered × Amount Per Credit

Scholarships

The scholarship system at APU is established to help provide equal opportunities to students and support the growth of our diverse student body. There are scholarships managed by the University, the national government, local public institutions, and private organizations. Each of these scholarships have different purposes, objectives, expectations, requirements, limitations, number of recipients, and award amounts; many do not allow for recipients to receive multiple scholarships.

Scholarships are established by their various benefactors with the aim of supporting students as they pursue their studies. Recipients should ensure they understand the purpose of their scholarship and have a sincere appreciation of their benefactors as they keep their aims high and work hard so that they can complete their studies and move on to contribute to society.

APU Policy on Scholarships

APU policy on the provision of scholarships

In order to attract a diverse range of students from a variety of countries and provide support for these students in their studies and everyday life in Japan, APU has received extensive funds for scholarships from advisory committee members, supporting group companies, and individuals. We also receive a large amount of support from the Japanese national government. These scholarships are provided with the aim of helping recipients lead fulfilling student lives.

We make every effort to distribute scholarships to all students on a fair and equal basis. At a university like APU where students gather from many different countries, it is particularly important to maintain an impartial system for allocating scholarships. Application and selection procedures performed by APU are not conducted with consideration to nationality, gender, age, and/or religious affiliation unless specified by the conditions of the scholarship. Scholarships that are provided until graduation have eligibility checks that are conducted every semester where the recipient's academic performance is examined in an impartial assessment for continuation, and if this assessment is not passed the University may issue a warning or even revoke a recipient's scholarship.

Armed with a proper understanding of APU's policy on scholarships, recipients should strive to work hard at both their studies and in their everyday lives.

Scholarship selection for current and prospective recipients

Application information for scholarships available through the University is regularly posted on the Student Office homepage. We encourage you to apply for any scholarships that interest you.

When evaluating applicants for a scholarship, assessment by the University is made using the following criteria.

Recipient Eligibility Requirements

- Students must have the following number of credits to be eligible:

| On completion of the: | Students must have obtained at least: | On completion of the: | Students must have obtained at least: |
|-----------------------|---------------------------------------|-----------------------|---------------------------------------|
| 1st semester | 16 credits or more | 5th semester | 80 credits or more |
| 2nd semester | 32 credits or more | 6th semester | 96 credits or more |
| 3rd semester | 48 credits or more | 7th semester | 112 credits or more |
| 4th semester | 64 credits or more | 8th semester | Not eligible |

 - ※Refer to Campus Terminal or the Health Clinic homepage for checkup schedules and other information.
- Students must be able to meet the requirements of the scholarship.
- Carefully read the eligibility requirements when applying for any scholarship.

Selection

Scholarships are awarded based on a comprehensive evaluation of the student's academic record, their financial situation, and the content of their application.

Additional notes

- In order to provide scholarships to as many students as possible, the University will not endorse a student for multiple externally-funded scholarships at the same time if these scholarships require a campus screening for a limited number of candidates. However, endorsement does not guarantee selection; if a student fails to be selected for one scholarship, they may subsequently be recommended for a different one.
- In cases where the University accepts applications for multiple scholarships at the same time, priority will be given to students with the best evaluation, and scholarships will be awarded according to the preference indicated by the applicant.
- Each scholarship has different award periods and other requirements. It is not possible to cancel recommendations, so please ensure you understand the conditions of each scholarship and choose carefully before applying.
- In order to provide scholarship support for as many students as possible, the University will not recommend students for new scholarships if they are already receiving a scholarship that covers both living expenses and tuition, like the Japanese Government (MEXT) scholarship.

Information on Scholarships

Detailed information about a variety of scholarships is available in the Guide to Scholarships, available for download from the Student Office homepage.

- *³ Students who enrolled in 2010 or before can register for up to 30 credits in their 8th semester.

2. Revocation

If a student receives two consecutive warnings, the student will be notified that their tuition reduction will be revoked beginning with the semester in which they receive the notice. Once the tuition reduction plan has been revoked, it cannot be reinstated. If a student has not obtained at least 92 or 98 credits (see the table above) by the end of their 7th semester, their tuition reduction scholarship will be revoked on the first warning.

Any warning or revocation notices that are based on assessment of the semester immediately preceding a student's leave of absence will carry over to the semester the student returns to APU.

3. Warning / Revocation Notices

Warning and revocation notices are sent via Campus Terminal at the beginning of each semester.

Address Registration

Tuition invoices are mailed to the tuition billing address you have registered with the University. If you do not have the correct address registered, your tuition invoice will not be able to reach you, and you will not be able to pay your tuition. Every semester several students are removed from student registry for non-payment of tuition because they did not have the correct address registered with the University and as a result they did not receive their tuition invoice. If you move, you must update both your current address and your tuition billing address.

If you do not keep your addresses, phone numbers, and other contact information current, the University will be unable to contact you or your family in the case of an emergency. Always be sure you have the most up-to-date information registered with the University.

Tuition invoices are sent to international students' APU email accounts during the tuition billing period to ensure that students who have returned to their home countries are also able to easily access their tuition invoice. Please follow the instructions on the invoice when paying tuition.

Contact Information Registered with APU

Students must have the following address and other contact information registered with the University: (1) Current Address, (2) Tuition Billing Address, (3) Home Country Contact Information, (4) Emergency Contact information, and (5) Home Country Sponsor's Address.

※The University has the following address information registered for new students:

| | | |

| Domestic Students | 1 - 5 | The address you provided when completing admissions procedures (The address of AP House will be included in (1) Current Address for an AP House resident.) |
| International Students | 1 - 2 | Your AP House address (for students not in AP House, your address before coming to APU) |
| | 3 - 5 | The address provided on your application form to APU |

If any of the below situations apply to you, you must update your address information in Campusmate.

- If you moved to Beppu and have an address different from your permanent home address.
- If you change rooms in AP House.
- If you are an international student who does not live in AP House and lives at an address different than the one you reported to the University in your application for admission.

Leave of Absence

Students who have a valid reason for being unable to attend classes for an unavoidable reason (such as illness) for three months or more may apply for a leave of absence.

Refer to p.36-38 for details.

Reinstatement

Before the end of the student's leave of absence, in May or November, the University will send any necessary forms to the home address the student has registered in Campusmate. Students should be sure to complete the procedures for reinstatement before the deadline.

Reinstatement application deadlines (Must arrive by the deadline)

| | Domestic | International |
|---|----------|---------------|
| Spring semester leave of absence ending September 20 (returning in the fall semester) | Aug. 5 | Jun. 30 |
| Fall leave of absence ending March 31 (returning in the spring semester) | Feb. 15 | Dec. 31 |

Note: If the deadline falls on a weekend or holiday, the deadline will move to the next business day.

✳️ Students who do not file for reinstatement or for an extension of their leave of absence by the deadline will be withdrawn from the University at the end of their leave of absence.

Withdrawal

- Students who encounter unavoidable circumstances such as illness may apply to withdraw from the University. Students who wish to apply should consult with the Student Office in advance to receive the necessary forms.
- Any tuition already paid to the University will not be refunded.

The following will result in compulsory withdrawal:

- Failing to complete the necessary procedures for a change of student status, such as reinstatement or transfer within the University, by the set deadline.
- Becoming subject to disciplinary action in the form of withdrawal.

Readmission

- Students who have withdrawn from the University may petition for approval to be readmitted.
- Students who have been readmitted will retain any credits they earned during their previous period of enrollment, prior to their withdrawal.
- A student may apply for readmission within three years of the last day of the semester in which they withdrew. However, the student must submit the necessary forms by the deadline for the corresponding semester. A student's past academic performance and overall student life will be reviewed when applying for readmission or the APU entrance examination. The university will consider the student's past grades, awards, or disciplinary action received during the previous period of enrollment, and whether they have complied with immigration laws during their time at APU.
- You need to pay one semester's tuition in full before being readmitted.

Readmission application deadlines

| | Domestic | International |
|-----------------------------|----------|---------------|
| Spring Semester Readmission | Feb. 15 | December 31 |
| Fall Semester Readmission | Aug. 5 | June 30 |

Note: If the deadline falls on a weekend or holiday, the deadline will move to the next business day.

Transfer Within the University

- Transferring allows students who are advancing to their second or third years to change from their current college to another college within Ritsumeikan Asia Pacific University.
- In principle, recruitment for transfer takes place when there are vacancies in a certain college. Students who wish to transfer should refer to the Academic Office homepage for more information.

Study Abroad

- Students who wish to study abroad while enrolled at Ritsumeikan Asia Pacific University should consult with the Academic Office.

Registry Removal

The following will result in registry removal. Students who have been removed from student registry cannot be readmitted. However, students who have been removed from the registry for not paying tuition are eligible to apply for readmission.

- The following will result in disenrollment. Students who exceed their duration of degree study (Eight years for undergraduate students, four years for students in master's programs and Master of Business Administration students, and six years for doctoral students).
- Dual enrollment (A student enrolling in two or more universities, colleges, or departments at the same time).
- Death.
- A student going missing for three months or more.
- Failing to pay full tuition by the deadline.

Note:

About students who go missing for three months or more

- When there is reason to believe a student may not be coming to the University – for example, because the student is not registering for courses, not taking final exams or not attending their classes – the University will contact the student's registered current address and home address.
- If the University attempts to contact the student and the student fails to respond with a legitimate reason, the University will consider the student missing and will remove the student registry after three months.
- Students should always ensure their current addresses and contact information are registered in Campusmate so that the University can contact them if they are unable to come to APU due to illness, accident, or other unforeseen circumstances. If a student becomes unable to come to the University, they should consult with the Student Office as soon as possible and complete the procedures for a leave of absence or withdrawal.

Leave of Absence

How to Apply for a Leave of Absence

Criteria

- Students with a valid, unavoidable reason for being unable to attend classes for more than three months may apply for a leave of absence. Examples can include illness, economic circumstances, military service, or other reasons beyond the control of the student.

Note:

- Students planning on taking a leave of absence to travel abroad or participate in an internship must attend a leave of absence guidance session. The guidance session schedule is posted to Campus Terminal.
- Leave of absence is granted on a semester basis. A leave of absence is permitted for a maximum of three years (6 semesters) during the enrollment period. Students taking a leave of absence may apply to accelerate the semester they return or extend their leave of absence up to three years. *For students who enrolled in 2023 or earlier, two years (4 semesters) is the maximum period for a consecutive leave of absence whereas three years (6 semesters) is permitted in cases of military service only. Effective April 1, 2026, all students may take a leave of absence for a maximum of three years or six semesters during their enrollment period. If a student who enrolled in 2023 or earlier takes a leave of absence after 2026, any leave of absence taken before March 31, 2025, will not count towards the maximum period of leave allowed.
- The college student visa that allows international students to study at APU will no longer be valid once they start their leave of absence, and must be canceled when leaving Japan. When returning to APU, international students will need to apply for a new visa.
- Students in a semester in which they could potentially graduate are not able to take a leave of absence.

Examples:

- A student in their 8th semester who has completed all the credits needed to graduate cannot apply for a leave of absence.
- A student in their 9th semester or later who has not completed all the credits needed to graduate can apply for a leave of absence.

Leave of Absence Application Deadlines

|--|--------------------------|
| Leave of absence starting in the spring semester | February 15 |
| Leave of absence starting in the fall semester | August 5 |

Note: If the deadline falls on a weekend or holiday, the deadline will move to the next business day.

If you need to cancel your leave of absence after receiving permission, you must complete the necessary procedures before the application deadline for the start of your leave of absence. Once the application period has ended, you will not be able to cancel your leave of absence.

Application Procedures

1. Consult the Student Office and receive the necessary documents.

Procedures are essentially the same as applying for any other leave of absence. There are, however, two main differences.

- You must attend a leave of absence guidance session in order to apply. You will be provided with all the necessary documents at this session.
- Using the forms provided by the University, you must prepare and submit your statement of purpose and planning sheet for your leave of absence, and you may be asked to sit for an interview when you submit your application.

※In order to help prevent the spread of the novel coronavirus, in some cases we may not be able to hold a leave of absence guidance session. Information on how to apply for leave of absence will be posted on the Campus Terminal.

Preparations

APU is unable to provide you with any support or advice in regard to finding a school to study at, looking for a company to internship with, finding a scholarship, or preparing your visa. It is the opinion of the University that it is important that you look after these matters yourself. The below link may be of use when making your preparations.

Other things to consider

Traveling or living overseas is often a rewarding experience. However, to make the most of this experience, you truly need to contemplate why you are taking a leave of absence and what you intend to do during your time away from APU.

Students cannot take a leave of absence simply because they want a change of scenery or to study in an English speaking country. Think carefully about what you need to do while you are living or traveling overseas and what you hope to gain from this experience. Many APU students already have experience living/ traveling overseas. It can be very helpful to make connections with these students and talk to them while you are still in the planning stages.

At APU, there are many overseas programs that can be recognized as being accredited. See the “Off-campus Study Program” section of the Academic Office webpage for details.

Extracurricular Activities

By enabling independence and creativity, extracurricular activities cultivate organizational and social skills, keen sensitivity, and the ability to express oneself well. They are an immeasurably significant part of students' personal growth.

At APU, by engaging in activities with a variety of students from all over the world, overcoming differences in culture and values, you can find both fun and meaning in a way that is not available anywhere else. You also have the opportunity to expand your student activities to the region and the world and develop them into something even more appealing.

Information on a variety of student activities is available on the "Online Student Activities Guide," a website for APU students, and the Student Office's social media accounts.

Registered Student Organizations

Basic principles for registration

1. International mutual understanding.

In line with APU's vision of promoting international mutual understanding, it is recommended to form groups comprised of students from multiple countries and regions.

2. Democratic management.

Student groups who make registration must determine their group rules and their management rules based on democratic principles and must perform democratic group management.

3. Prohibiting violent behavior that threatens the autonomy of the University and freedom in learning and research.

APU respects each student's freedom in learning and research, and together with students creates an environment in which students can achieve personal growth both in and outside campus. Consequently, violent behavior that threatens freedom in learning and research – the very foundation of the University – is completely unacceptable.

University support for registered organizations

The University provides the following support to registered organizations.

- Use of University facilities and equipment.
- Public relations activities on campus (e.g. Flyer, posters, billboards, booths).
- Activity subsidies (available for groups that reach and maintain a certain level of activity).

The Club and Circle System

This system supports students who want to engage in an activity for a longer term, allowing them to make use of internal promotion and facilities and equipment to carry out better activities. There are over 100 active clubs and circles at APU. Anyone can freely enter a club or circle, and anyone can create a new club or circle.

1. Joining an Existing Group

- You can look up the activity times and places of each student organization in the Online Student Activities Guide. If you are interested in an organization, please go directly to where they hold their activities. You can also find additional information about the organizations in their homepages and SNS.
- The representative's contact information can be obtained at the Student Office's counter.

2. Creating a New Group

To create a new group, you must submit an application form during either the spring or fall recruitment period. A new group will receive registration approval after a screening process is held. See the Student Office homepage or Campus Terminal for details on the application process and application periods.

Event and Project Support System

The University supports events and activities that are generated by students and have completion deadlines for achieving their goals. The University supports students' self-initiative, motivation, and desire to carefully plan and implement one-time events to the best of their abilities. The support is aimed to develop students' growth as well as event planning and administration skills that are required skills for working professionals. The three categories for the support system for student extracurricular activities are Type A: Autonomous Events, Type B: Selected Project, and Type C: Enterprise & NPOs Co-create Project. For details, please refer to the Student Office homepage.

Insurance and Extracurricular Activities

Participation in extracurricular activities is voluntary and up to the individual student. Accordingly, if a member of the club or circle has an accident, gets injured, or causes an accident or injury, the individual member is responsible for the accident or injury and must deal with it themselves. While APU can provide support to members, the University cannot be responsible for the activities and actions of a club or circle (as opposed to club or circle activities in high school).

In general, the member or members who caused the accident or injury are responsible for the medical costs. For these reasons, the University strongly encourages student organizations to have insurance that covers their activities, particularly for sports or similar activities.

Precautions on Campus

Skateboards and Roller Skates on Campus

Due to the possibility of injuring students and causing damage to the roads or pavement, kick-boarding, roller-skating, skateboarding, and other such activities are not permitted on campus.

Sales on Campus

As a general rule, sales on campus of products such as student band concert tickets are not permitted. However, if the purpose of the sales is not for making profit, but is to provide part of the funding for events recognized by APU, and the revenue and expenditure are clearly declared, such sales may be approved. For details, please contact the Student Office.

Collecting Donations

In principle, APU does not permit charity drives due to the possibility that donations may not end up being used for the intended purposes.

Local Exchange Programs

APU is a university established with the generous cooperation of Oita Prefecture and Beppu City. Since the establishment of the University, APU students have widened the circle of exchange with local residents. Every year the University receives more than 100 requests from local residents for exchange with students, providing a valuable opportunity for students to lead a more fulfilling student life. Take advantage of local exchange events to get out of APU and interact with the local people.

Local Exchange Events

The Student Office regularly updates its homepage with information on requests from events in the local area. You can apply to participate through the online system. Check the site regularly for new information. There are many events that provide transportation costs and meals to make it easier for students to participate.

Details on local exchange programs are available here:
